

Access Review Request

TowerView Health is required to maintain the privacy of member health information. This includes health information about members that is collected during the course of enrollment and throughout use of the service.

All access to TowerView Health systems and services are reviewed and updated on an bi-annual basis to assure proper authorizations are in place commensurate with job functions.

Access is not granted until receipt, review, and approval by the TowerView Health Security Officer. Direct system to system, system to application, and application to application authentication and authorization are limited and controlled to restrict access.

To protect member privacy, the following must be met when approving access:

Job function of the user must depend on access to the server or data elements in question.

The level of security assigned to a user to the organization’s information systems is based on the minimum necessary amount of data access required to carry out legitimate job responsibilities assigned to a user’s job classification and/or to a user needing access to carry out treatment, payment, or healthcare operations.

TowerView Health maintains a minimum necessary approach to access to Customer data.
